4. DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of these General Terms of Use, the following terms are defined as set out below:

“Data”: refer to the personal data as defined by Article 4 of Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of April 27, 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data (hereafter “GDPR”) that are provided by the User or collected by the Publisher in connection with use of the site by the User.

“Services”: refer to the services provided by the Publisher on the site and presented in Section 5 of these General Terms of Use.

“User”: refers to any person with access to the website, regardless of their status (individual or professional), the place where they are located, the means of connection, the objective and purpose of their access to the information published, who is a user of the Services (hereafter “User or Users”)

5. SERVICES

5.1 Description of the services

The services provided by NFL BIOSCIENCES involve providing all pharmaceutical and financial information relating to the development of the drugs NFL-101, NFL-201 and NFL-301 linked to the website <https://www.nflbiosciences.com>.

5.2 Access to and availability of services

The Publisher makes every effort to ensure that its services are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, under the best possible conditions. In this capacity, the Publisher is bound by a best-effort obligation and not an absolute requirement.

The Publisher reserves the right to modify or interrupt, at any time, temporarily or permanently, all or part of the Services without prior notice for the Users and without any right to compensation for maintenance operations relating to said Services.

The Publisher cannot be held liable for any difficulties with access or cases when access is impossible, in addition to slow connection speeds or other technical issues due to circumstances beyond the Publisher’s control.

6. SITE

The website <https://www.nflbiosciences.com> is accessible using available technologies, such as a server, computer, tablet and/or mobile device.

7. OWNERSHIP OF CONTENT – INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

All of the data, text, images, photographs, databases and other content published on the site or within the Services are protected by intellectual property law. The Publisher is the exclusive owner of these elements with regard to both the structure and the content of the site. Users may use these elements exclusively in accordance with the instructions set out below.

Users undertake to download the site’s content to their devices exclusively for strictly personal, non-commercial use over a limited period of time. They undertake to only print the downloaded content in paper format if the copies created in this way are intended exclusively for personal use, which notably excludes any reproduction for professional or commercial purposes or any free or paid distribution in significant quantities. In addition, they undertake to not reproduce all or part of the site on another site or an internal company network, and to not reproduce or summarize the digital version of the information for the purposes of press reviews without prior written approval from the Publisher.

Users are forbidden from reproducing, summarizing, altering, modifying, moving, removing, replacing or redistributing, without prior written approval from the Publisher, the content of the information or other elements from the site or Services, whether this concerns text elements (articles, press releases, etc.), graphic illustrations (photos, etc.) or brands and logos.

Users undertake to not extract or reuse, including for personal purposes, without prior written approval from the Publisher, any substantial or other parts of the content of the databases and archives created on the site.

Use of the site or services does not imply any transfer or assignment of the Publisher's intellectual property rights to Users concerning the elements that comprise the site or the services. For example, users are not authorized to extract, particularly using automation tools, any elements published on the site, to reuse them or to make them available to the public in whole or in part.

8. ETHICS

As a Publisher of a development service concerning a pharmaceutical product for dependence and addiction treatments, the Publisher undertakes to act in the interests of people and human health, to check the accuracy of the scientific, medical and pharmaceutical information, to contribute to public health education and information, to maintain its professional independence, and to adhere to pharmaceutical rules of conduct.

9. ALERTS

Any content or message extracted from the site that might be considered unlawful by a third party (e.g. defamatory, infringing on privacy, public health or image rights, etc.) must be reported as quickly as possible to the Publisher (<https://www.nflbiosciences.com/contact>) with specific information concerning the author, the nature and the date of the request, as well as the location of the contents subject to the request. In the event of a specific alert indicating a clear infringement of a legal provision, the Publisher undertakes to intervene promptly and to take the measures required in order to resolve the issue reported.

10. LINKS

Third parties are authorized to set up a link to the site if the site's pages are displayed in a dedicated full window, below their respective addresses. This must be accomplished without committing any act of unfair competition, defamation or parasitic behavior relating to the site.

If the site references other sources and websites, the Publisher does not have the means to control these sites and offers no guarantees in this respect. It cannot be held liable for the content of any page outside of the site and any other site linked to the site. The inclusion of a link to a site does not under any circumstances imply the Publisher's approval of the site, as these websites are published by third parties under their own responsibility.

11. RESPONSIBILITY - WARRANTIES

11.1 Nature of the information

The information, particularly financial, published on the Site cannot be considered as an invitation to invest. It must not under any circumstances be interpreted as canvassing or a public offering, or as an offer to subscribe, purchase or exchange NFL BIOSCIENCES shares or other securities. The Publisher would like to draw Users' attention to the fact that the financial information displayed on the Site is updated on a regular basis.

The Site may present the opinions of experts consulted in specific fields relating to the Site's content or extracts from press articles. Any information of this kind exclusively represents the opinion of the expert consulted or the author of the publication, and does not necessarily reflect the opinions of NFL BIOSCIENCES. Any such expert is not an employee of NFL BIOSCIENCES. NFL BIOSCIENCES is not responsible for the accuracy or exhaustive nature of any information and opinions of this kind. The experts' opinions reflect their own personal points of view and must never be interpreted as the opinions or responsibility of NFL BIOSCIENCES.

The Site also includes information relating to health, physical conditions, the medical field and medical treatments exclusively for human use. Such information is published on the Site exclusively for information and is not intended to replace the opinion of your doctor or pharmacist. The information must not under any circumstances be used to perform a medical diagnosis of any disease or physical issue or to prescribe or use any medicinal products presented on the Site.

The Site is not intended to be used to report health issues or adverse reactions, or to submit technical complaints concerning NFL BIOSCIENCES products, or to submit technical or medical questions relating to said products. In any event, NFL BIOSCIENCES advises Users to consult their doctor or pharmacist.

11.2 Exclusion and limitation of liability

The Publisher makes every effort to ensure that the information published on the Site is accurate and up-to-date. The Publisher reserves the right to correct its content at any time and without notice. However, the Publisher cannot guarantee that the information available on the Site is accurate, correct, up-to-date or complete.

As such, and with the exception of damage to property arising from its serious or intentional negligence, NFL BIOSCIENCES accepts no responsibility:

- For any inaccuracy, error or omission concerning the information available on the Site,
- For any damage resulting from any fraudulent intrusion by a third party resulting in changes to the information or the elements available on the Site,
- And more generally, for any damages to property or indirect damages, for any reason, from any origins, of any type or with any consequences whatsoever, even if NFL BIOSCIENCES had been notified of the possibility of such damages or losses, caused as a result of any access to the Site or it being impossible to access, as a result of use of the Site, including any damage or virus that may infect Users' IT equipment or any other property, and/or as a result of the belief in any information coming directly or indirectly from the Site.

12. ACCEPTANCE AND AMENDMENT OF THE GENERAL TERMS OF USE

By accessing the site or Services, Users declare that they have read, understood and accepted these General Terms of Use. They also declare that they have legal capacity to give their consent to these General Terms of Use, that they understand their consent to them, and that they intend to fully comply with these General Terms of Use without any restrictions. If they are a minor or do not have legal capacity, they declare that they have authorization from a person with parental authority, a legal guardian or a custodian.

The Publisher may at any time amend the conditions set out in these General Terms of Use. Such amendments are binding for Users once they have been put online. It is therefore recommended that Users should regularly consult the General Terms of Use in order to take note of such potential amendments.

13. PERSONAL DATA / INFORMATION

a. Purpose for processing Users' personal data

Users' personal data are processed with a view to informing Users about NFL BIOSCIENCES' financial news.

b. Legal basis for the processing of Users' personal data

The processing of Users' personal data is based on their consent. This consent is collected using a form on which Users provide their personal data with a view to registering for a mailing list. Users may withdraw their consent at any time.

c. Recipients of Users' personal data

The recipients of Users' personal data are NFL BIOSCIENCES and the agency CALYPTUS.

d. Content of personal data

The data collected by the Publisher using the consent form are as follows:

- Surname and first name of the person concerned.
- Email address
- Phone number

It is important to note that the form contains the following required fields:

- Surname and first name of the person concerned.
- Email address
- Message

In which case, the User may decide to not provide the following information:

- Phone number

e. Data transfers outside of the European Union

Infomaniak, 25 Eugène-Marziano, 1227 Les Acacias, Swiss, hosts the data from the NFL BIOSCIENCES site.

f. Cookies

Users give prior consent for the use of cookies.

g. Timeframe for retaining Members' data

The Members' personal data are retained by the Publisher until an unsubscribe request is submitted to NFL BIOSCIENCES.

h. Rights of data subjects

In accordance with the French data protection act (Loi informatique et libertés) of January 6, 1978, Users have a right of access, rectification, erasure, objection, restriction and portability concerning their personal data.

These rights may be exercised by contacting NFL BIOSCIENCES, 99 rue Hélène Boucher, 34170 Castelnau-le-Lez, France, clearly indicating the User's surname, first name, address and number.

In addition, the person concerned may submit complaints to the CNIL, the French data protection authority.

14. GOVERNING LAW AND SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES

These General Terms of Use are governed by French law. Any disputes relating to the conclusion, interpretation or execution of these General Terms of Use will be subject to the jurisdiction of French courts.

The parties agree to make every effort to reach an amicable settlement for any dispute that may result from the interpretation, execution and/or termination of these General Terms of Use or by writing to info@nflbiosciences.com.

On account of the Internet's global scale, Users must comply with all of the regulations applicable in the country where they live.
